THE TERMINAL CITY.

Progress Being Made at the Embryo City of Vancouver.

The Land Being Cleared and Buildings Being Erected.

A representative of THE TIMES recently paid a visit to Coal Harbor and the embryo city of Vancouver, and was surprised to find so many evidences of progress and the extraordinary faith of the residents in the future glory and prosperity of the city that is yet to be. The land is being cleared and buildings are being erected in every direction.

THE SUNNYSIDE HOTEL.

As previously announced in THE TIMES, Mr. H. Hemlow, the genial host of the Sunnyside Hotel, has almost completed the alterations and additions in connection with the above hotel, which now, outside of the Colonial, of New Westminster, is the largest and most commodious caravansery on the mainland. In addition to his previous accommodation, Mr. Hemlow has added a large dining room, and a still larger one intended for a ball or concert room. These are on the ground floor. On the second floor are bed rooms on either side of a wide hall. These are large, lofty in the ceiling, and well ventilated. They are located en suite. On the ground and second floors is a wide verandah running round the east and south sides of the hotel, from which a fine view is to be obtained of the beautiful harbors, Moodyville, and the Indian rancherie, the shipping riding at anchor, the saw mills and the unrivalled scenery of the mountains looming heaven wards with their broken, grotesque peaks, on the opposite shore. Guests receive at the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Hemlow every possible attention. They are now prepared for the reception of visitors, and those who favor the Sunnyside with their patronage can rely on being comfortably looked after while at the terminal city.

NEW BUILDINGS.

Mr. Ferguson's new block is well advanced. Less than a year ago the site on which it is being erected was a dense forest. The location is one of the best in the place, being on the corner at the junction of the Hastings and North Arm roads, directly opposite the Sunnyside and Deighton hotels. The block will embrace five spacious stores on the ground floor, of 15 foot ceilings 30x50. The second flat is laid out for offices. The cost will foot up close upon $10,000. Mr. Gillespie has completed one of his stores and dwellings on the North Arm road. He has begun the erection of a brick block between his first store and Mr. Ferguson's block. Dr. Powell has erected a neat store and residence on the Hastings road, on which road there are at present several dwellings in process of erection. On the North Arm road, as far as its junction with the New Westminster road, a number of new buildings have been completed and others are in course of erection. In the 85 acres that were recently cleared of timber, the streets have been laid out and the lots staked, so that owners and intending purchasers can at once inspect their property.

GRADING THE STREETS

is to be proceeded with shortly, as many are anxious to commence building, which has to be deferred until roads are opened to enable them to bring the materials to their sites. Lot hunters are to be observed daily walking to and from amongst the stumps and burning timber. The opening made in the woods by the chopping of eighty-five acres has made a wonderful change in the appearance of the site. Sir Charles Tupper and the gentlemen accompanying him expressed themselves as vastly pleased with the locality, and commented on its many advantages as the site for terminal facilities for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

PREVIOUS SURVEYS TO BE ACCEPTED.

It is reported on good authority that the surveys already made by the private property owners, and registered, are to be accepted by the railway company, and is to form part of the general plans for the city of Vancouver. In consequence of an arrangement having been completed between the railway authorities and the private property owners, whereby the former grant the company one-third of their property and the entire foreshore from the Granville reserve up the Inlet to lot 183, and at the request of the Canadian Pacific Railway company have been withdrawn from market till December next, when it is expected the division of the properties will take place. Lots not embraced in this arrangement consequently have stiffened in price, and as there are but few that can be dealt with owners are not disposed to part with that which they believe to be good properties and certain to realize figures for in advance of those now asked by next May. Mr. Van Horne has notified parties interested in the locality that so soon as the line is connected he will visit the Inlet and arrange for the commencement of the terminal facilities.

ALL UNSOLD LOTS

The erection of a large brick hotel is hinted, but nothing is known as yet about the matter beyond the fact that plans are being prepared by a well known firm of eastern architects for a modern hotel.

THE PORT MOODY LUMBER COMPANY

have opened a lumber yard a short distance above the Sunnyside hotel. So many buildings going up creates a brisk demand for lumber, and building material.

THE SCHOOL.

The average attendance of scholars at Mr. Palmer's school is 40, while frequently as many as 60 are present. The accommodation is becoming too limited and a new school will have to be erected shortly.

THE POSTAL FACILITIES

are not what they should be. The mails from Victoria do not reach Granville until the day following its arrival in New Westminster. This is simply a disgraceful state of affairs. Generally the mails from Victoria reach New Westminster about 2 o'clock, and the Granville stage leaves shortly after. The up country mails arrive at the New Westminster office before the Island one. It would not involve much labor to make up a separate bag of the Victoria office for the Inlet and Moodyville. The importance of Granville now demands better mail facilities and should receive the attention of Post Office Inspector Fletcher.

THE COUNTRY TRAVERSED

by the road constructed by the government last year after leaving the suburbs of New Westminster is a slightly undulating one; the timber in many sections is light, the soil well adapted to agricultural purposes, being of a sandy loam with a clay sub-soil. In several places clearances have been begun. In a few years there will be a number of fine ranches along this route.

STATIONERY AND FANCY GOODS STORE.

Messrs. Pearson & Co., of New Westminster, have opened a branch establishment at Granville, with Mr. James Hall in charge, in the store formerly occupied by Mr. George Black. Here are to be found the leading journals and periodicals of the day, works of fiction as well as those by the standard authors, and a complete assortment of plain and fancy stationery and fancy goods, all of which are of the best quality and sold at reasonable prices. Copies of the DAILY and WEEKLY TIMES can always be procured from Mr. Hall.

BOATING ON SEA INLET.

Visitors to Granville can always depend on being supplied with row boats for a "spin" on the peaceful waters of Coal Harbor or the Inlet at reasonable rates. Messrs. Shaw & Linton have a number of beautiful new boats for hire. Boating is a favorite pastime with the people of Granville.

ANOTHER NEW BUSINESS HOUSE.

Mr. F. W. Hart is amongst our latest arrivals. He at once secured premises and stocked the same with furniture, blankets, bedding, &c., hardware, clothing, tobacco, cigars, confectionery and all classes of fruit. He has also built a comfortable dwelling house on the Hastings road, near the mill property. Mr. Hart asserts that he came a long distance to the terminus, and he is bound to develop with the embryo city.

A COMMENDABLE MOVE.

Messrs. F. C. Innes & Co., real estate agents, have added a reading room to their office, which is supplied with the leading Canadian papers, several American and English journals, and the provincial papers. The room is already well patronized, and is taken advantage of by travellers wherein to write their letters.

POLICE COURT.

(Before E. Johnson, S. M.)

MONDAY, Oct. 5th, 1885.

DRUNKS.

Tom, a Cowichan, drunk, fine 1 $5 or one week.

Mary, a Songish, drunk, fined $5 or one week.

George, a Fort Rupert, drunk, fined $5 or one week.

Joseph Wilbrow, drunk, fined $5 and 50 cents costs.

Andrew Fraser, drunk; prisoner, an American blue jacket, was discharged at the request of the Superintendent.

W. G. Poole, drunk, fined $5 and $1 costs.

RESISTING AN OFFICER.

Robert Miller, resisting Officer Stewart in the discharge of his duty. The officer testified that on Saturday night, between 12 and 1 o'clock, the proprietor of the Germania Saloon sent for him to expel prisoner, who was creating a disturbance. When he was ordered out he resisted, struck at the officer, caught hold of him, tore his coat and used the vilest language in the vocabulary. The prisoner, who was mixed up in the recent Salt Spring Island cutting case, was fined $20 and 24 costs or two months.

STEALING $60.

Robert Miller stealing $60 from Thos. Dougherty at the Albion saloon, on the night of the 3rd inst. The prisoner is the same person mentioned above. The complainant, Dougherty, who has been working on the Island Railway, and only came into the city on Saturday, swore that he lost between $60 and $75 in the saloon named, but being drunk at the time could not identify prisoner.

Wm. Hogan, who was in the saloon at the time and an eye witness of the robbery, swore that Miller went through Dougherty's pockets when the latter was asleep, and took out either three or four bills, saying to the crowd, "these are for me—you can have the change." Afterwards at the Germania saloon Miller said to witness, "you're a dirty son-of-a —— if you squeal on me."

The prisoner was remanded for two days.

Lawrence McKenzie, vagrancy; defendant did not appear. Fined $25 or three months.

Adjourned till Wednesday at 1 p.m.

MARINE NOTES.

The tug Woodside towed the bark Alden Bessie to Welch, Ritbet & Co.'s dock on Saturday. She will take on board about 400 Chinese and stores, and sail for Hongkong next Sunday.

The bark Hermine was towed out of the harbor yesterday to Royal Roads by the tug Pilot, and will be towed to sea to-night by the Pilot.

The bark Spartan will dock the last of the week and take on board about 350 Chinese for Hongkong and leave about the 15th.

Political Crisis in Denmark.

Special to THE TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 5.—The Diet opened to-day and it is probable that the session will be the most stormy one Denmark ever witnessed. Relations between the contending parties are strained to the utmost and some violent scenes are anticipated, as an attempt will be made to force the King to comply with the vote of the Diet at a previous session, to dismiss his obnoxious ministers. His majority also will probably be subjected to a serious discussion for having levied taxes by royal decree when the Diet refused to vote the budget, and saying he was determined to continue to do so. All representatives of the people returned to a sense of what they conceive to be their duty. The people throughout Denmark are greatly excited at the arbitrary action of the King. Mayors all over the country have refused to levy the illegal taxes and numbers of political prosecutions have resulted from demonstrations against the government.

The French Elections.

Special to THE TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—The results of the elections throughout France yesterday for members of the Chamber of Deputies, so far as finally reported up to noon to-day, have created great surprise and chagrin among members of the Cabinet and their colleagues. The Conservatives, on the other hand, are wild with enthusiasm over the fact that they have succeeded in polling a much larger vote than the most sanguine anticipated, and making changes in the Cabinet requisite. The returns show that the Conservatives have won sixty seats in seventeen of the 87 departments, and have also beaten two Cabinet ministers, and made a second ballot necessary to decide the fate of two others. The result of the elections in Marseilles has not yet been declared.

Cyclone in India, &c.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Advices from False Point, India, says: That the recent cyclone destroyed five hundred villages.

The Dutch ministry is preparing a bill to raise the import duty on corn.

The Danish expedition to East Greenland, after an absence of twenty-nine months, has returned to Copenhagen. The expedition made a special chart of that hitherto unknown coast, reaching latitude 66 deg. 8 min. north, and named it Christian IX Land.

Belgium has withdrawn from the Monetary Convention. The effect of this step is anxiously awaited in Germany, when a severe bi-metallic struggle is feared.

Riel Sympathizers.

Special to THE TIMES.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4—A member of the Montreal Garrison Artillery was assaulted on the streets at a late hour last evening by four French Canadians, who shouted vive Riel. He kept his assailants at bay with a stout stick, however, until assistance arrived. On St. Paul street some French Canadian storemen and a number of volunteers came near having a row, but militia officers coming up they quieted down and separated, the parties threatening revengeance at a future date.

Reported Occupation of Herat.

Special to THE TIMES.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 4.—A dispatch to Novoe Vremye from Askabad, dated Friday, says the English have taken entire possession of Herat and have ordered the inhabitants to quit the town immediately. The inhabitants are angered by this action of the English, and have thrown up earth works opposite the citadel. The English are being strongly reinforced. This dispatch is considered to be exaggerated.

The Radicals and Conservatives Gaining Strength in France.

Special to THE TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—Goblet, Minister of Public Instruction, and Herve Mangon, Minister of Commerce, are the officers who have been denoted by the Conservatives. The Opportunists have lost many seats, which have been gained by either Radicals or Conservatives.

The Cholera.

Special to THE TIMES.

MADRID, Oct. 4.—Throughout Spain 295 new cases of cholera and 112 have been reported.

King Alfonso has been ill with intermittent fever. He had sufficiently recovered yesterday to be able to hold a reception.

Important Papers.

Special to THE TIMES.

ROME, Oct. 4.—Important documents relating to the Caroline Islands have been discovered among the archives of the Vatican. They will facilitate the settlement of the difficulty between Germany and Spain.

The Sultan and Prince Alexander.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The report of the interview with the Czar has caused rejoicing at Philippopolis. The British Consul Lascelles, has arrived at Philippopolis on a mission to effect reconciliation between the Sultan and Prince Alexander.

The Roumelian Question.

Special to THE TIMES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 5.—The conference of ambassadors on the Roumelian question has resulted in a memorandum being formulated which will be submitted to the powers for approval before being referred to the Porte.

French Elections.

Special to THE TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The elections are proceeding very quietly. The Republicans are apparently sure of majorities in the provinces. Results will not be ascertained and such issues until to-morrow.

Balkan Troubles.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The people of Crete are excited over the Balkan troubles, but maintain an expectant attitude. They had sent an address to the powers asking that the treaty of Berlin be maintained, otherwise that Greece be permitted to annex Crete.

Just What He Would Say.

Special to THE TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 4.—The Czar in replying to the Bulgarian deputation said he would endeavor to secure accord among the powers to effect a pacific solution of the Roumelian difficulty.

London Consols.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Consols opened at 99 13-16 for both money and account and closed at 99¾.

The Albanians Defeated.

Special to THE TIMES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 4.—The Roumelian conference met informally to-day. Full instructions have not yet arrived. Veizzel Pasha telegraphs that he has completely defeated the Albanians and captured and promptly hung the most prominent of their leaders.

There are numerous unfounded rumors current of attempts to poison the Sultan. It is believed the Sultan is recovering demented.

Ordered to Shun Her at Mass.

Special to THE TIMES.

DUNLAY, Oct. 5.—A notice was posted yesterday at the gates of Mrs. Morgan O'Connell's homestead, at Kildisert, ordering members of the league to shun her at mass and not sit in the same gallery with her. Mrs. O'Connell attended mass and was the sole occupant of the gallery.

Bulgaria One Camp.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—A despatch to the News from Sofia says that Bulgaria is one military camp. All the male population between the ages of fifteen and forty-five are under arms, and thousands of volunteers are being enrolled daily. They appear to be in earnest and determined.

A Call for Servians.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Servian Consulate here, in an advertisement, requests all Servians resident in England to forward their names and addresses to the consulate immediately.

Activity in Turkish preparations is believed to point to an early occupation of Roumelia by Turkey.

The Pope and Ireland.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Standard correspondent at Rome says the Pope eagerly reads the reports of the electoral chances in Ireland. He unceasingly admonishes Irish bishops to prevent their flocks from supporting the Nationalists.

Crawford vs. Dilke.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Globe denies that the case of Crawford vs. Sir Charles Dilke has been dropped. The trial, it says, will probably come off in December next.

Cholera in Rome.

Special to THE TIMES.

ROME, Oct. 5.—One hundred and seventy-two new cases of cholera and 56 deaths from the disease were reported in Palermo yesterday.

GENERAL DESPATCHES.

ACCIDENT ON THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

Five Men Killed and Forty or Fifty Injured.

Special to THE TIMES.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 4.—A terrible accident happened on the Fergus Falls branch of the Northern Pacific Railway, seven miles west of here, this morning, by which five men lost their lives and thirty or forty more were more or less injured. John Robinson's show left Wheaton, Dakota, for this place in two sections, when within seven miles of Fergus Falls, near a small place named Frenchies, the head of baggage section broke in two while going up a heavy grade, and ten or twelve cars went adrift back at a terrific rate. On the rear car were three sleeping cars occupied by workmen, over two hundred in number, all of whom were sound asleep and not aware of the impending danger. The cars which had broken loose increased their speed as they approached the second, or cage section, and probably had run a mile before they struck it. The engineer of the rear section saw the cars approaching but only had time to stop the train before it struck him. The brakemen on the loose cars tried to put on the brakes but they had a difficulty in running from car to car on account of wagons which impeded their progress. Had the engineer of the rear section only a few moments more time he could have backed his train and avoided the calamity, but it was too late and the cars struck his engine with tremendous force, throwing three sleepers from the track and smashing them beyond recognition. The result was soon apparent, as more than a hundred men were buried in the debris. The scene may hardly be described as the night was fearfully dark and the groans of the men were appalling. People in the rear section at once began the work of relieving the men, five of whom were found dead, and many others wounded and bleeding. Word was at once dispatched to the city, and a train in charge of Supt. Vining at once hastened to the scene, and the dead and wounded brought to this place. The work of removing the men from the debris was a long task. A man alive and uninjured was taken from under two dead ones, and it was simply a miracle that he escaped. The following is a list of the dead: Geo. Kraus, Cincinnati; Roberts, (first name unknown), Dakota; Chas. Wallace, joined at Portland, Ogn., (antecedents unknown); Jas. Wilson, Cincinnati; Samuel Blair, Colfax, W. T., (antecedents unknown.) A car is expected from Brainerd to remove the wounded to that place. The Coroner will hold an inquest to-morrow morning, but it is evident that no one was to blame, as it was simply an unavoidable accident.

The Scourge in Canada.

Special to THE TIMES.

QUEBEC, Oct. 4.—There was one death in the Marine Hospital this morning from smallpox. The case came from Montreal. Great excitement was caused yesterday in St. Sauvies. When the public vaccinator entered two of the largest French schools there, for the purpose of vaccinating the scholars, the pupils became greatly alarmed, owing to previous erroneous statements about the severity of vaccination, and now fear that they may be put to severe test by force if they would not submit. The entire classes rushed from the school and home to their parents, who consequently became exasperated and proceeded to the school in no peaceful state of mind. They were met by the Mayor of the municipality, who expostulated with them and finally got them to understand the necessity of vaccination, when the crowd dispersed without using any violence. Today the clergy in several Roman Catholic churches spoke of the necessity of vaccination and of having the patients removed to hospitals should the dread disease make its appearance in their midst.

THE Pall Mall Gazette thinks that "the novel of pure character is the novel of the future. We get more and more realistic and analytic; we care less and less for the bare plot, the impossible episodes, the terrific encounters, of the older novelists."

NUMEROUS holders of American and Canadian railway shares have asked SIR HENRY TYLER to convene a meeting at London for the purpose of discussing the question of competition, and to advise the various lines to agree upon reasonable rates.

A PROMINENT window glass manufacturer of Philadelphia is reported to have said recently that:

"The manufacturers feel that a large reduction must be made in the wages, and the men do not feel disposed to accept any. If a reduction is made they are not willing to go to work. They have not decided upon what reduction to make, but it will have to be large."

"ADVANCE AUSTRALIA!" is a motto worthy of the great southern continent, and worthily have its people acted up to it. Melbourne is a shining proof that all the energy of the Anglo-Saxon race is not flowing in the American channel. She is a city that has made her mark, but it will not be long before we shall have our own Australian city recognized by the world as another and equally striking monument of enterprise and pluck. So speaks the Toronto Globe.

THERE are signs of increasing interest in the English election campaign, and the big guns of all parties are being trained for action. The GLADSTONE manifesto has stirred up the Tories, and Premier SALISBURY is preparing a counterblast which it is expected he will make public this week. The announcement that JOHN BRIGHT has determined to re-enter politics and to lend his aid to the Liberal cause cannot fail to encourage the followers of MR. GLADSTONE and to put the Tory leaders on their mettle.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

MR. JOHN KIRKLAND, president of the Agricultural Association, at the annual meeting, inaugurated the commendable plan of the delivery of an address relating to agriculture and such kindred subjects as farmers, mechanics and artizans have to deal with in their respective avocations. So soon as the meeting was organized the following address was read by him:

Gentlemen.—It is gratifying to know that we meet together under favorable auspices. The season has been a propitious one for the farmers. An abundant harvest has been secured, and, with a few exceptions, in excellent condition, for which may we not fail to acknowledge the guiding hand of a beneficent Creator. The object of our annual exhibition, I take, is to bring together specimens which will illustrate the condition and progress of our province in the several departments of agriculture and of the mechanical skill and ingenuity of our artizans, to facilitate the interchange of ideas relative to the methods which have been employed in accomplishing the most successful results in the several departments on exhibition. It is gratifying to know that causes which in the past have prevented a more rapid development in agricultural products are, under the light of experience and progressive improvement, gradually disappearing. The increase of the past two years has been perceptibly very great, and the productive capacity of each succeeding year in the future will be in a vastly increased ratio to that of the past. It has long been a reproach to us that, with vast areas of land of unsurpassed fertility, we should be unable to supply the demands of home consumption. It is gratifying to know, however, that our resources are becoming more generally known and appreciated, and with increased facilities of communication we may confidently hope for large additions to our ranks, and that our farming industry will speedily take that position in the province to which its importance as the chief factor of wealth in any community so justly entitles it.

We are soon to enter upon a new era in our history. With the completion of our national highway important changes will inevitably take place. We shall be brought into closer connection with our great Northwest as well as the more populous portions of the Dominion. An influx of capital and of population to aid us in developing our agricultural and other resources may be hoped for, new avenues for the interchange of commodities will be opened up, and it will be our duty and privilege to be on the alert and to profit by every favorable advantage in our changed condition. We must grow all the fruit we can, make all the butter we can, raise all the pork and lard we can, improve the quality and increase the number of our cattle, raise and fatten all the sheep we can, supply our market with all the coarse grains we consume, raise our own eggs and chickens—in short, we must not rest satisfied until the balance between supply and demand is in our favor. With this accomplished the British Columbia farmers may congratulate themselves upon being in possession of a heritage second to none within the broad expanse of our fair Dominion.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the association was held in the Council Chamber, at which were present a goodly representation from the Island and the Mainland, excepting the city of New Westminster, the only representatives of the city present being MESSRS. JAMES ORR, M. P. P., and MR. FERRIS. After the president had delivered his address the election of officers was proceeded with. The names of the officers and directors for next year have already been published, excepting that MR. THOS. RUSSELL was appointed secretary and MR. WILLIAM DALBY treasurer.

A resolution was passed instructing the directors to take steps for the incorporation of the association. The announcement was made that the premier had promised to amend the agricultural act so as to confer on the provincial the same powers as were now enjoyed by district societies, namely, the right to hold property in fee simple, to be empowered to sell, encumber and otherwise deal with real estate and chattles.

During the discussion it was ascertained that the association had no interest whatever in the New Westminster grounds or buildings. The city had contributed $1000, the government $1000 and the municipalities of Richmond, Surrey, the Delta and Langley an amount towards the erection of the buildings, fencing, etc. The unfitness of the grounds for exhibition purposes was pointed out and the desire expressed to secure better facilities elsewhere in proximity to the city's limits.

A resolution was carried to the effect that a request be made by the association that the government grant it the fee simple in and to the agricultural grounds and buildings thereon.

MESSRS. Higgins, Dalby, Shakespeare and Russell explained the position in which the grounds and buildings in Beacon Hill Park stood and their responsibility in connection therewith.

After a vote of thanks had been passed to the President, directors and officers, the meeting which was the largest yet held, adjourned.

MR. E. F. B. JOHNSTON, of Guelph, Ont., has been appointed Deputy Attorney General for Ontario, vice MR. SCOTT, who becomes Registrar General of Titles under the Town's Act passed at last session of the Ontario Legislature. MR. JOHNSON is a talented gentleman, a clever lawyer and an excellent speaker. In his early years he was a pupil of MR. J. A. HALLIDAY, now principal of the boys' school in this city; has been a close student and determined to be in the front rank in his profession. He is receiving congratulations on all hands from political friend and foe, as one richly deserving the position.

THE Nova Scotia gold field produced $500,000 last year. Recent reports show that the auriferous strata and rocks embrace an area of 7,000 square miles, extending along the Atlantic coast from Yarmouth to Cape Canso.

WITH regard to the rumor that the Great Western division of the Grand Trunk Railway will shortly pass into the hands of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, Kiernan's says the lease of the Western by the Grand Trunk can be broken on account of the latter road not having paid the interest on the purchase-money, and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is now arranging for the control of the line, MR. STEPHEN'S visit to England having that end in view. In the event of the Canadian Pacific Railway not securing the Great Western Railway, it is asserted that the former will construct the proposed independent line to the Detroit River.

THE London Truth says the recent changes in the Royal Family must have proved highly profitable to lawyers concerned. The Queen has made a fresh settlement of her private property since the death of the DUKE OF ALBANY. The amount of Her Majesty's wealth is unknown. It is said, however, to exceed £4,000,000 sterling, besides her estate in Aberdeenshire, embracing 30,000 acres, the Claremont property, the Osborne estate, possessions in Baden-Baden and at Cobourg, the Isle of Wight estate, Balmoral estate, besides many others. By her recent will, it is said, she will leave the Isle of Wight property to CONNAUGHT, the Scotch property to BEATRICE, and handsome provision for the children of LEOPOLD. Her entire fortune is estimated at about $35,000,000.

Such expressions as these from manufacturers who have obtained by legislation the largest subsidies of the kind known as protective duties, show the fallacy of the stereotyped doctrine of the high protectionists, that a high tariff necessarily makes high wages and permanently high wages. It is really about time for them to cease the promulgation of that fallacy, and to admit what every practical person knows to be the fact; that wages are governed, not by tariff legislation, but by the supply and demand for the product manufactured, and by the facility with which labor may be obtained. The window glass men admit that they have overdone the business and that trade is dull. They have to suspend operations until the demand for glass revives. They know perfectly well that their periodic reduction of wages is directly antagonistic to their dogma about the effect of protective duties on wages.

IN LUCK AT LAST

BY WALTER BESANT.

(CHAPTER IV.—(Continued.)

His wife gasped and choked. She knew already, after only five weeks' experience, how bad a man he was—how unscrupulous, false and treacherous, how lazy and selfish. But, after a fashion, she loved him; after a woman's fashion, she was madly jealous of him. Another woman! And only the other night she had seen him giving brandy and soda to one of the music hall ballet girls. Another woman!

"If you do, Joe," she said, "oh, if you do—I will kill her and you too!"

He laughed.

"If I do, my dear, you don't think I shall be such a fool as to tell you who she is. Do you suppose that no woman has ever fallen in love with me before you? But then, my pretty, you see, I don't talk about them; and do you suppose—oh, Lotty, are you such a fool as to suppose that you are the first girl I ever fell in love with?"

"What do you want me to do? Tell me again."

"I have told you already. I want you to become, for the time, the daughter of the man who died in America; you will claim your inheritance; I will provide you with all the papers; I will shield by you; I will back you up with such a story as will disarm all suspicion. That is all."

"Yes, I understand. Haven't we been over that a hundred times? Suppose I am found out? Suppose I am sent to prison for life, Joe?"

"Foolish people have. Not people who are well advised and under good management. Mind you, this business is under my direction. I am boss."

"Mind you, this business is under my direction. I am boss."

She made no reply, but took her candle and went off to bed.

In the dead of night she awakened her husband.

"Joe," she said, "is it true that you know another girl who would do this for you?"

"More than one, Lotty," he replied, this man of resource, although he was only half awake. "More than one. A great many more. Half-a-dozen, I know, at least."

She was silent. Half an hour afterwards she woke up again.

"Joe," she said, "I've made up my mind. You shan't say that I'm used to do for you what any other girl in the world would have done."

As a tempter, it will be seen that Joe was unsurpassed.

It was now a week since he had received, carefully wrapped in wool, and deposited in a wooden box dispatched by post, a key, newly made. It was, also, very nearly a week since he had used that key. It was used during Mr. Emblem's hour for tea, while James waited and watched outside in an agony of terror. But Joe did not find what he wanted. There was in the safe one or two ledgers, a banker's book, a check-book, and a small quantity of money. But there were not any records at all of moneys invested. There were no railway certificates, waterwork shares, transfers, or notes of stocks, mortgages, loans, or anything at all. The only thing that he saw was a roll of papers tied up with red tape. On the roll was written: "For Iris. To be given to her on her twenty-first birthday."

"What the deuce is this, I wonder?" Joe took this out and looked at it suspiciously. "Can he be going to give her all his money before he dies? Is he going to make her inherit at once?" The thought was so exasperating that he slipped the roll into his pocket. "At all events," he said, "she shan't have them until I have read them first. I dare say they won't be missed for a day or two."

He calculated that he could read and master the contents that night, and put back the papers in the safe in the morning while James was opening the shop.

"There's nothing, James," he whispered as he went out and locked again the safe. "There is nothing at all. Look here, my lad, you must try another way of finding out where the money is."

"I wish I was sure that he hasn't carried something in his pocket," James muttered.

Joe spent the whole evening alone, contrary to his usual practice, which was, as we have seen, to spend it at a certain music hall. He read the papers over and over again.

"I wish," he said at length, "I wish I had known this only two months ago. I wish I had paid more attention to Iris. What a dreadful thing it is to have a grandfather who keeps secrets from his grandson! What a game you might have had over this job! What a game we might have still if——"

And here he stopped, for the first germ of conception of a magnificent coup dawned upon him, and fairly dazzled him so that his eyes saw a bright light and nothing else.

"If Lotty would," he said. "But I am afraid she won't hear of it." He sprang to his feet and caught sight of his own face in the looking-glass over the fireplace. He smiled. "I will try," he said, "I think I know, by this time, how to get round most of 'em. Once they get to feel there are other women in the world beside themselves, they're pretty easily worked. I will try."

One has only to add to the revelations already made that Joe paid a second visit to the shop, this time early in the morning. The shutters were only just taken down, and James was busy dusting the counter and watering-pot only used in shops, which has a little stream running out of it, and Mr. Emblem was upstairs slowly shaving and dressing in his bedroom. He walked in, nodded to his friend the assistant, opened the safe, and put back the roll.

"Now," he murmured, "if the old man has really been such a dunder-headed pump as not to open the packet all these years, what the devil can he know! The name is different; he hasn't got any clue to the will; he hasn't got the certificate of his daughter's marriage, or of the child's baptism—both in the real name. He hasn't got anything. As for the girl here, Iris, having the same Christian name, that's nothing. I suppose there is more than one woman with such a fool of a name as that about in the world."

"Easy," he said cheerfully, "have you found anything yet about the investments? Odd, isn't it? Nothing in the safe at all. You can have your key back."

He tossed him the key carelessly and went away.

The question of his grandfather's secrets was growing insignificant beside this great and so solid idea which he entertained. He walked briskly to his office, where he spent the morning in a state of excitement which was almost intolerable. He could not sit still for a minute together. He ate a hot luncheon at a neighboring coffee-house, and returned to his office. At four he could stand it no longer, and he walked out and took a cab to the Temple. He dismissed the cab at the gate, and walked through the courts to the Mitre, where he ordered a glass of sherry. He then walked through the cloisters and into the Square, where he found a seat under the trees and sat down to think.

He had left the office at four because it was the hour at which he was accustomed to receive his friends, and he was in no condition to receive anybody that afternoon. He had left no orders with his clerk, because he had not thought of them. He had left his hat in the cab, because he had forgotten to take it with him. He had forgotten his umbrella, because it was a fine day. He had forgotten his gloves, because he was hot. He had forgotten his boots, because they were comfortable. He had forgotten his coat, because he was warm. He had forgotten his waistcoat, because he was hot. He had forgotten his shirt, because he was hot. He had forgotten his trousers, because he was hot. FARE AT AMERICAN HOTELS.

Dietary Also Improving.

(George Ade in The Century.)

When I have seen the lengthy bill of fare so commonly furnished at large American hotels, and thought of the waste entailed, I have often believed that a reformer might succeed, by establishing, say in New York, a hotel on a new plan, one that would afford the small, good variety that one finds at the smaller London hotels of the best class—a variety well cooked and served, through the cook's attention not being dissipated among a multitude of dishes. At two restaurants in New York, on Broadway and Fifth avenue respectively, one gets an excellent table d' hote dinner of this kind at the reasonable charge of $1.25, which includes a pint of vin ordinaire. The best hotels, it gives me pleasure to state, are fast moving in the direction of simplicity of bill of fare.

In New York the leading house on the American plan does not provide its table with much more than one-half the variety of dishes one may have offered at second-rate, pretentious concerns throughout the country. The dietary, too, in America is unquestionably improving. Fruit and vegetables are consumed much more plentifully than before quick trains transported them cheaply and canning became a prodigious business. Baked joints and fowl, so often parboiled and sodden, are giving place to better things in the way of genuine roasts. The gridiron, thank goodness, has well nigh driven the frying pan out of the kitchen, and who ever saw broiled steaks and chops have taken the place of the hard, greasy meats that spoiled so many digestions in the past. Pie, too, is going, and its exodus has had much to do with the genesis of fat.

But hot bread and cakes still hold their own, and the baleful ice pitcher remains active for stomachic mischief. Porridge, however, is more easily had at a hotel in New York than in Edinburgh, and, with cracked wheat, has gone abroad throughout the union, crossed the Rockies and visited the Pacific slope, doing good all the way. Salt fish, salt meat, and pork are now little used. Fresh fish and oysters are consumed very largely, and, exchanged for the game of distant backwoods and prairies, are carried from lake and sea to the most interior cities and towns of the continent—another blessing due to the rugged old Englishman who first put a boiler on wheels and sent it traveling about the country!

Under the influence of improved diets and the custom of taking a vacation during the heated term, we are glad to learn from statisticians that the physique of our people is improving, and that they are living longer than their predecessors did. Adipose is being deposited only lanky forms, and although Brother Jonathan can scarcely yet be depicted as a plump person, he bids fare to become such if he keeps on adopting common-sense measures in food and rest.

A Maid a Romance.

(Best Parlay Poem.)

Bertha Gerolt, daughter of the Prussian minister to the United States, who entered the Monastery of the Visitation in 1806, was of a Catholic family, although her father represents a Protestant kingdom. She was of a refined nature, much sweetness and sensibility, and probably felt for her father, who was growing old, was quite poor, and, in the movement of Count Bismarck against the Catholic church, stood in danger of losing his legation. About that time there lived with Baron Gerolt an attache, a young man belonging to one of the noblest and oldest Protestant houses of Brandenburg, people as proud of their religious consistency as of their rank. He grew enamored of our Miss Gerolt, and the alliance would have been proper and acceptable in every way but for the matter of religion.

The attache's mother, in Prussia, repelled the idea of the Catholic connection, while the ecclesiastics in America, seeing an apparent opportunity to do some proselyting around the Prussian court, operated upon Miss Gerolt's mind. After the parents on both sides were tolerably agreed the religious issue was kept up, and the question of children had to be settled in advance until the young man's patience was worn out, and he broke the engagement. The church, which had been successful in the matter, was of course entitled to the bride, and about this time some controversy arose between our government and the state authorities at Berlin, which ended in the recall of the old minister, the only one, although a Catholic, to adhere with enthusiasm to the cause of the federal government during the dark days of the rebellion. Bertha Gerolt disappeared, as did before her and within the same walls a daughter of the Emperor Iturbide and a daughter of Gen. Winfield Scott.

Chloroving Potomac Snakes.

(Philadelphia Press.)

It is a remarkable fact that a poisonous snake can not poison one of its own species. It can kill any poison other kinds of venomous snakes and can kill quickly harmless ones. A vigorous cobra can kill several dogs or from a dozen to twenty fowls before its bite becomes harmless, and then its rapid secretion of virus makes it soon as dangerous as ever.

French Weather Prophets.

(New Letter.)

The forecasts of the weather bureau of France were verified last year in ninety out of every 100, the percentage having risen from 71 in 1881 to 83 in 1882 and 85 in 1883. Out of 187 alarm signals sent to the harbors, 126 were fully verified, twenty-four were fairly correct, thirty-seven were incorrect, and only two gales were not foreseen.

Fun and Duty.

(Chicago Ledger.)

The man who spills out words 4 at 1 cent if he has to hold the baby two minutes while its weary and heartsick mother lies down to get a bottle of morphine, will stand all day in the water up to his knees and hook a kipjack without a murmur, because one is fun and the other duty.

GRAND

Colonial Exhibition!

IN LONDON, ENGLAND, 1886.

Fifty-four Thousand Feet Reserved for Canada.

First Royal Exhibition Commission since 1862.

THE Colonial and Indian Exhibition to be held in London, England, commencing May 1st, 1886, is intended to be on a scale of such magnitude having for object to mark an epoch in the relations of all the parts of the British Empire with each other.

It does not give becoming significance to the event a Royal Commission is issued for the holding of this Exhibition, for the first time since 1862, and his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been appointed President by Her Majesty.

The very large space of 54,000 square feet has been allotted to the Dominion of Canada by command of the President, His Royal Highness.

This Exhibition is to be purely Colonial and Indian, and no competition from the United Kingdom or from foreign nations will be permitted, the object being to exhibit to the world at large what the Colonies can do.

The grandest opportunity ever offered to Canada is thus afforded to show the distinguished place she occupies, by the progress she has made in AGRICULTURE, in HORTICULTURE, in the INDUSTRIAL and FINE ARTS, in the MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES, in the NEWEST IMPROVEMENTS in MANUFACTURE, MACHINERY and INVENTIONS, in PUBLIC WORKS by MODELS and DESIGNS; also in an adequate display of her vast resources in the FISHERIES, and in FOREST and MINERAL wealth, and in the SHIPPING.

All Canadians of all parties and classes are invited to come forward and vie with each other in endeavoring on this great occasion to put Canada in her true place as the premier colony of the British Empire, and to establish her proper position before the world.

Every farmer, every producer, and every manufacturer, has interest in assisting, it having been already demonstrated that extension of trade always follows such efforts.

By order,

JOHN LOWE,
Sec. of the Dept. of Agriculture.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

While the TIMES is always pressed to give publicity to the views of correspondents on any question of interest to the public, provided facts are given, couched in unobjectionable language, we wish it to be understood that we do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by the writers thereof.

Nor can we give room to duplicates of letters that have appeared in our contemporaries either in this city or elsewhere in the province. Correspondents, therefore, will save time and trouble in preparing such for THE TIMES, as they will be rejected.

Our space is valuable, and brevity, as far as possible, should be observed in writing on any topic, and on ONE SIDE of the sheet only.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—Before purchasing Real Estate or insuring your life, see Rand Bros.

—The locomotive, it is expected, will reach the depot at Nanaimo by the 15th inst.

—The revenue collected at the Nanaimo custom house for September, amounted to $4,438.32, of which $4,076.06 was for import duty.

—The total quantity of coal cleared from the Nanaimo custom house, for September, was 22,022 tons, valued at $88,100.

—The Mexico arrived from San Francisco yesterday, at 11 a. m., with 591 tons of freight for this city. She brought a small list of passengers for Victoria.

—The Knights of Labor will meet on Tuesday evening in Harmony Hall at 7.30 and not this (Monday) evening as stated in the morning papers.

—A concert will be given in a short time in aid of the Royal Hospital. One of the attractions will be the disposal of a grand upright piano by drawing. Tickets for the drawing will be only $1.

—Mr. R. Gaymont, C. E., in addition to surveying Beacon Rock, in Nanaimo harbor, with a view to its removal, will also make a survey of Nicol Rock, in front of V. C. Co.'s wharf, and several of the island rivers.

The Geo. E. Starr's consignees: Wm McColl, D McNaughton, Brewster & Co, S J Pitts, Neufelder & Ross, Anderson & Anderson, Irving & S, J A Mara, Keiley Bros, R Baker, H Saunders, S Leiser, Bucharest & Co, J Wilson, W G Lowe, Homer & Son, H Saunders.

—Correspondents will please bear with us for a few days. Until the agricultural exhibitions have been disposed of the space at our disposal will be somewhat limited. The agricultural interests of the province, to our mind, are of such vast importance as to demand full reports of the several exhibitions being held on the Mainland and the Island.

The Montreal Scourge.

The evil that is being done to the business of Montreal from the prevalence of smallpox is incalculable. Business men in Victoria who have ordered goods from that city, have since countermanded their orders, and no doubt every city and town between here and the plague-infested city, have curtailed their business for the same reason. To such an extent has its trade suffered that Mayor Beaugrand has had printed and circulated a statement of the actual condition of affairs, with the view of minimizing the injury that is being done to the mercantile community. A number of these circulars have been sent to Victoria, and one is now before us. From the 1st of April to the 5th of September, 416 deaths have taken place, 354 being French-Canadians; 38 other Catholics, and 24 Protestants. The large majority were under 15 years of age, in fact more than one-half were less than five years of age.

Mrs. Hampson's Address.

At the close of the services in the various churches last night a large audience assembled in the Theatre Comique to hear Mrs. Hampson, the celebrated revivalist. The large room was densely crowded and numbers went away, not being able to get accommodation. It was probably the largest assembly that ever gathered in a room in the city. A choir composed of the members of different choirs in the city was in attendance and sang several pieces very nicely. Mrs. Hampson's address was very practical and commanded the close attention of all present. Notwithstanding the large crowd, every word could be heard distinctly by all present. Meetings will be held in the same place each evening this week, and will no doubt be largely attended.

A Cantankerous Newspaper.

To-morrow is a civic holiday, and all our people, with the exception of newspaper men, will show their loyalty to the Queen and their appreciation of its representative. The Colonist, Post and TIMES were anxious and willing to discontinue publication, but the old "dog-in-the-manger" Standard would not agree to do likewise. Just why the proprietor should act so contrarily is not very apparent. It could not be for the benefit of his readers, as the baker's dozen who still take it through respect for its age, would be just as well pleased were it to take seven holidays in the week.

Runaway.

One of the Transfer teams bolted down Johnson street, passed Government, and opposite the Railroad Hotel ran into Mr. Briggs' express wagon, striking the horse in the flank and overturning both horse and wagon. No damage of any consequence done.

To be Extradited.

Consul Stevens received information this afternoon that a warrant for the extradition of Morgan, in durance here on a charge of the crime of murder, committed in Montana, had issued. On the arrival of the papers the prisoners will be taken to Montana.

The Sooke Mines.

Mr. R. Wingate of Tacoma, and another capitalist from the east are at present in the city. They have visited the Sooke iron mine and are highly impressed with its richness and value. There is a probability that this mine will be purchased from its present owner and developed at an early day.

Reward Paid Promptly.

Mr. Charles R. Lord, who found the body of the late Geo. Coleman, was on Friday promptly paid the amount of the reward offered by friends of the deceased.

LORD LANSDOWNE.

Canada's Governor-General and Party Expected To-morrow.

Extensive Preparations Being Made for the Reception of the Visitors.

Intimation has been received at THE TIMES office that the vice regal party left Kamloops by special train at 10 a. m. today. A pilot engine precedes the special. It will reach Port Moody late this evening. The party will reach this city about noon to-morrow.

The committee are making the best of the time at its disposal to prepare a suitable reception for the distinguished gentleman. The route of from the Hudson Bay wharf along Wharf street to Johnson, up Johnson to Government and along Government to Fort and thence out to Government House, is being tastefully decorated with evergreens on both sides while bunting is being hoisted to the top of every flag pole in the city.

A GUARD OF HONOR

from the B. C. G. A. will accompany His Excellency throughout the route. The procession will form on Wharf street, and will be made up of the various societies in the city, the fire department, the Admiral and his staff, the Judges and Court officials, civic officials, blue jackets and marines, &c., arranged according to precedence. At Government House another guard of honor will be in waiting to receive the Governor and party. The bands belonging to H. M. S. Triumph and the artillery will take part.

At the junction of Yates and Government in the form of two semi-circles, for the accommodation of the school children and ladies. The procession will halt at this point, and the civic address will be read by His Worship the Mayor, and replied to by His Excellency. The National Anthem will be sung by the children, and the procession will then move on to its destination.

A STAGING HAS BEEN ERECTED

Over the platform and stand, corner of Yates and Government, and stretching from the four corners to the electric light mast, are ropes covered with flags of all kinds, which give a handsome and gala appearance to the scene.

THE WEATHER

gives promise of being everything that could be desired. The day has been proclaimed a civic holiday, and will be generally observed as such by our citizens. A generous welcome awaits Lord Lansdowne, both on the day of his arrival and during his brief stay in our loyal city.

THE VICE REGAL PARTY

besides His Excellency, comprises Lord Melgund, Hon. Mr. Anson and Mr. Hope, the Governor's private secretary, Mr. Campbell and a couple of attendants.

ANTI-CHINESE.

Meeting under the Auspices of the Knights of Labor—Powerful Speeches.

An Anti-Chinese meeting was held in Harmony hall on Saturday night, under the auspices of the Knights of Labor. Mr. D. Cronan addressed the meeting, urging upon them the necessity of co-operation, to cope, not only with the Chinese, but with those wealthy organized corporations, which are attaining such immense power in the United States. These corporations, if allowed to grow, will at length swamp all representative government, and so bring everything under their control. The Chinese are a great evil in our midst, as helping these capitalists in their work of destruction, and the sooner got rid of the better, and after this is accomplished we shall turn our attention to this other, and equally great evil, monopoly, and stop it career. He read the constitution of the Knights of Labor, which aims at attaining the advancement of the social and moral standard of the masses, the establishment of co-operative institutions, and the introduction of a co-operative industrial system, the destruction of monopoly, and co-operation from the government.

Mr. McClimont, in supporting Mr. Cronan, referred to the serfdom of old, which he said was nothing compared to the existing state of slavery. The baron was the father of his people; he took what he needed, nothing more, the rest he gave to his people, who were seldom in want. The slave owner fed his slaves well, they had all they required to satisfy their bodily wants and when they turned sick they were attended to; but the workmen of the present receives his pittance of wages and when his employer has got a sufficient stock manufactured, or should the workman become sick or meet with an accident, he is unmercifully cast adrift to starve, and his wife and family with him. There is something wrong, and we are going to find it out. To compete with the Chinese we must get down to his level, and if we get down there, we will never get up again; but we are not going to get down; we are not going to become slaves; we must and shall get rid of them. Do you want to be freemen? Do you want still to shout, "Britons never, never shall be slaves?" Then join us and organize with us. Do you want to go down to a level with the Chinese, the lowest social and moral level of humanity on the face of the earth? to become slaves? Then remain unorganized; remain a mob.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one throughout, and over one hundred became members of the association. Mr. Mason officiated as chairman.

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION

Brief Account of the Stock and Goods Exhibited.

On Saturday last THE TIMES published the list of successful prize takers at the recent Provincial exhibition. To-day we begin the publication of our notes on the various animals and articles exhibited. The weather during the fair was delightfully fine, the attendance of visitors, however, was much smaller than was expected it would be. A band was in attendance every afternoon discoursing choice selections of music.

THE OFFICERS

for the present year were Mr. John Kirkland, president, Hon. Wm. Smithe and Mr. A. C. Wells, vice-presidents; Mr. W. D. Ferris, secretary, and Mr. T. B. Pearson, secretary. Directors—Messrs. Adain Innes, N. Shakespeare, M. P., S. Bughouse, D. W. Higgins, W. Leduer, James Burns, George Black, William Dalby, H. Webb and S. Sandover, all of whom, with the exception of Mr. James Burns, were in attendance on the ground during the exhibition.

THE OUTSIDE SHOW.

The live stock were exhibited in pens and sheds surrounding the grounds. Dr. Tolmie was the principal exhibitor in the thoroughbred class of cattle. His short horn 3-year old bull, Rueben, out of imported stock of the Booth blood, was bred and raised by the doctor; is an animal of fine proportions, showing in an unmistakeable manner his high breeding. Already he weighs close upon 2000 lbs., is not in too high a condition for breeding purposes. His points are perfect and lines of breed well defined. Rueben was much admired by visitors, and the doctor is to be congratulated on possessing so fine a specimen of the bovine race. The doctor also exhibits a yearling thoroughbred heifer, Madge, sired by Butler out of Effie Deans. This animal shows off to great advantage her breeding, and the fine fronts so essential in animals of her class are prominent features of her beauty. The heifer calf belonging to the same gentleman, like those already referred to, is a handsome animal and will yet prove a valuable stock raiser. Mr. D. McGillivray's bull calf is a roan, of excellent proportions, well put together and already reveals his breed. He is out of imported stock of the Bates' blood and an extremely well promising animal. Mr. John Kirkland's year old heifer was awarded the red ticket. She is of imported stock, a well developed animal for her age, her breeding is apparent in her every action. She is well set up on her limbs, has good strong quarters and chest. In altogether a superior animal. The grade stock was fair considering the drouth of the past season. Mr. Kirkland carried off the prize for the best herd, Mrs. Senator McInnes for the best milch cow and Mr. Townsend for the best fat animal.

THE HORSE DISPLAY

was a fair one. Mrs. Turgoose of South Saanich, exhibited Black Hawk, which was imported by Mr. William Dalby from Ontario some years since. As a roadster this animal is a great favorite in the province; he has sired much of the stock now to be found on the Island and in the Fraser valley in his class. His action is faultless; he stands 17 hands high; is well built and proportions are perfect, and he is sound in every particular. He was awarded the red ribbon. Mr. R. A. Purver's horse was awarded the second prize. It also is a fine animal and a favorite with many. Inauguration is a famed trotter; has a record of 2.34, his sire in California covering three miles in 7.29. A colt out of Inauguration stock was recently sold for $1000. Capt. Irving's mare, with foal at foot, carried away the red ticket. The Captain's colt was awarded a second prize, John McKenzie's receiving the first. In the draught horse class there was keen competition between Mr. Wm. Chadsey's horse and that of Mr. James Tod's, of Cedar Hill. Both animals are of the Norman Percheron type, dappled gray in color, and weighing about 1800 pounds. They are of imported stock, and quiet, docile and of good action. Mr. Chadsey, of Chilliwhack, got the red ticket and Mr. Tod's the second. In this class Mr. J. Johnston carried off four first prizes for young animals. In the general purpose class Mrs. Turgoose's horse carried off the first prize, the other prize winners being Capt. Irving, Messrs. Johnston and McKennie. No draught horses, Mrs. Turgoose, Messrs. Ryder, Black, Parker, Ryan and James McKay were the successful competitors.

IN SHEEP

the number exhibited was small, but the quality and merits of the animals were high. In Leicesters the honors were divided between Dr. Tolmie and Mr. Shopland; but the latter gentleman made a clean sweep in the Southdown class. In Cotswolds Mr. Reynolds' ram was awarded the red ticket.

IN BERKSHIRE PIGS

the exhibitors were Mr. J. D. Bryant, of Saanich, Messrs. James Punch and J. D. McAdams. The animals were in good condition and all appeared to be true to their breed. The decision of the judges for the best boar did not give satisfaction. Mr. Bryant entered a protest against the judges' award. It was overruled, but so well satisfied were the visitors with this animal that Mr. Bryant sold it at a very handsome figure.

THE POULTRY SHOW

was beyond doubt the best on the ground. In fact nothing like it was ever witnessed on the northwest coast, and it would be hard to equal it anywhere. The birds were the theme of general comment, and attracted much attention. Mrs. Geo. A. Perrin exhibited 29 different varieties, consisting of all the favorite breeds, such as buff Cochins, some of which were hatched this year; they were excellent specimens of that type of fowl; a pen of three being valued by Mr. Perrin as worth $100. There were the partridge Cochins; the dark Brahmas, the leghorns; game fowl of all varieties, gold and silver spangled, silver crested and black polish, dorkings and others. Mr. Perrin is an enthusiastic poultry fancier and possesses a stock of birds of which he is justly proud, many of them being so perfect that they score from 90 to 97 points in perfection. In this class, with the exception of the prize for a turkey awarded to Mrs. Hodgson, Mrs. Perrin swept the board in all the prizes and specials.

FOR CARRIAGES, &C.

Messrs. Johnston Bros. were awarded the first prizes. The competition in this class was confined to the above firm alone. A pump was exhibited, but by whom none could ascertain. A waggon of a new style of construction was also exhibited.
